MANGALAM COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING
Accredited by NAAC & ISO 9001:2000 Certified Institution
DEPARTMENT OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE AND MACHINE LEARNING

NOTICE

Date: 09/10/2022

Subject: Aptitude Training Session on October 19, 2022

It has been decided to conduct an aptitude session for the students of Dept . of Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning. We are pleased to inform you that an Aptitude Training Session has been scheduled for all second-year students of the Department of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning.

Date: October 19, 2022

Time: 01.25 pm - 04.00 pm

The Aptitude Training Session aims to enhance your problem-solving skills, analytical thinking, and logical reasoning abilities. These skills are crucial for your academic and professional growth, especially in the field of AIML.

The session will cover various aspects of aptitude, including but not limited to:

Quantitative Aptitude: Enhancing your mathematical and numerical problem-solving abilities. Logical Reasoning: Developing your logical thinking and decision-making skills.

Verbal Ability: Improving your language and comprehension skills.

We encourage all eligible second-year AIML students to actively participate in this training session to gain valuable insights and skills that will benefit you both academically and professionally.

Please make sure to be present at the venue on time, and carry any materials specified by the trainers. Your active participation is crucial for the success of this training program.

Subject: Aptitude Training Session on October 19, 2022

It has been decided to conduct an aptitude session for the students of Department of Chemical Engineering. We are pleased to inform you that an Aptitude Training Session has been scheduled for all second-year students of the Department of Chemical Engineering.

Date: October 19, 2022

Time: 01.25 pm - 04.00 pm

The Aptitude Training Session aims to enhance your problem-solving skills, analytical thinking, and logical reasoning abilities. These skills are crucial for your academic and professional growth, especially in the field of AIML.

The session will cover various aspects of aptitude, including but not limited to:

Quantitative Aptitude: Enhancing your mathematical and numerical problem-solving abilities.

Logical Reasoning: Developing your logical thinking and decision-making skills.

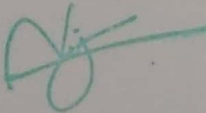

Verbal Ability: Improving your language and comprehension skills.

We encourage all eligible second-year AIML students to actively participate in this training session to gain valuable insights and skills that will benefit you both academically and professionally.

Please make sure to be present at the venue on time, and carry any materials specified by the trainers. Your active participation is crucial for the success of this training program.

Date: 09/10/2022

Subject: Aptitude Training Session on October 19, 2022

It has been decided to conduct an aptitude session for the students of Dept . of Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning. We are pleased to inform you that an Aptitude Training Session has been scheduled for all second-year students of the Department of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning.

Date: October 19, 2022

Time: 01.25 pm - 04.00 pm

The Aptitude Training Session aims to enhance your problem-solving skills, analytical thinking, and logical reasoning abilities. These skills are crucial for your academic and professional growth, especially in the field of AIML.

The session will cover various aspects of aptitude, including but not limited to:

Quantitative Aptitude: Enhancing your mathematical and numerical problem-solving abilities. Logical Reasoning: Developing your logical thinking and decision-making skills.

Verbal Ability: Improving your language and comprehension skills.

We encourage all eligible second-year AIML students to actively participate in this training session to gain valuable insights and skills that will benefit you both academically and professionally.

Please make sure to be present at the venue on time, and carry any materials specified by the trainers. Your active participation is crucial for the success of this training program.
